David Lane

Memo Of Eastern Cape Accounting September 2014:

Political Power and Colonial Development in British Central Africa 1938-1960s Alan Cousins, 2022-12-30 This book focuses on the late colonial history of Zambia and Malawi which between 1953 and 1963 were part of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland. Although there were many links in their history and between their populations the two territories British protectorates under Colonial Office control contrasted greatly in power structures in their economies and in their development. Europeans living in Northern Rhodesia with a power base in the mining economy were able to establish a dominant position in the territory after the Second World War. By the 1950s it looked as though they would have with Southern Rhodesian Europeans a long hegemony gaining independence from Britain as a new Dominion which would mean control over both Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland through the Federation. Thus white ethnicity and ideology are essential factors in this book relating to the struggle for power from just before the Second World War up to the 1960s. However crises in 1959 and 1960 led to the collapse of the Federation. A second focus is on issues of social and economic development. For Africans in Nyasaland and in rural parts of Northern Rhodesia there was a relatively weak economy in this period, a pattern of limited cash crop production while many people became caught up in labour migration subordinate to powerful European dominated economic forces within southern Africa. This meant that colonial policies aimed at rural development were fundamentally flawed. The book also looks at the actual nature of rural economic change as opposed to colonial policies and discusses alternative visions of the future which were put forward. The argument is put that historians have often concentrated on the activities of the main nationalist movements in Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia seeing them as bringing progress away from colonialism and towards independence. Here there is an attempt to draw out the complexities of life and a variety of responses in the colonial situation, progress coming in a number of forms but not always being achieved.

The Eurasian Project in Global Perspective David Lane, 2018-10-18 Regional associations have become major players in international politics and economics. The Eurasian Economic Union (EEU) composed of Russia, Kazakhstan, Belarus, Armenia and Kyrgyzstan is considered as a player which will strengthen the international influence and international trade of the post socialist countries. It is intended to become a parallel association to the European Union. This comprehensive volume considers the potential global role of the EEU. A major problem outlined is the balancing of relations between the EU and the West on the one hand and China and the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation on the other. The book explores the impact of the global crisis as well as a consideration of the EEU in the world system of states. It also examines the EEU's relationship with other regional developments in relation to the EU and to the outer circle of post socialist states that joined neither the EU nor the EEU. It concludes by considering Eurasia in the Asian context, looking at the two central Asian countries, Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan, relations with China and the relationship between the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) and the EEU. This book was originally published as a special issue of European Politics and Society. Minerals Yearbook
