The Process of Writing News Brian Richardson, 2007 Using examples and exercises The Process of Writing News takes an impact elements and words approach to demystify reporting and writing for beginners

This is a concise book that approaches writing as a process using a pedagogy that has proven effective. In each chapter the book addresses the roles of journalists at several levels of abstraction beginning with their responsibilities to audiences in a democratic society and continuing with ethical decision making in fulfilling those responsibilities. Each chapter ends with reporting and writing exercises which allow the reader to develop skills for informing audiences and telling compelling stories in print broadcast and online news media and to practice and be evaluated on those skills. The reader is taken through a year in the life of a fictional community revisiting issues and stories in a series of more than two dozen linked exercises of increasing complexity from lede writing to handling a major breaking story on deadline. There are even opportunities to report and write from the reader's own community. American Journalism W. David Sloan, Lisa Mullikin Parcell, 2002-04-24

News consumers made cynical by sensationalist banners AMERICA STRIKES BACK THE TERROR OF ANTHRAX and lurid leads might be surprised to learn that in 1690 the newspaper Publick Occurrences gossiped about the sexual indiscretions of French royalty or seasoned the story of missing children by adding that barbarous Indians were lurking about before the disappearance. Surprising too might be the media's steady adherence to its continual tugging at its philosophical and ethical moorings. These 39 essays written and edited by the nation's leading professors of journalism cover the theory and practice of print radio and TV news reporting Politics and partisanship press and the government gender and the press corps presidential coverage war reportage technology and news gathering sensationalism each subject is treated individually. Appropriate for interested lay persons students professors and reporters.
