called the Ages of Man Human beings seem always to have divided up their lives into separate stages this book argues that the medieval understanding of the age in the middle of man's life was very different from contemporary ideas Middle age in the Middle Ages did not have dim and negative associations Instead it was typically perceived as a perfect age an age of fulfilment which reached its consummation in the redemption brought about by Christ in his perfect age The implications of this for medieval understanding of the series of the ages are discussed here for the first time Armenian Texts, Tasks and Tools Henning Lehmann, Joseph Johannes Sicco Weitenberg, 1993 Armenian Texts Tasks Tools Cahiers de L'Institut Du Moyen-âge Grec Et Latin, 1969 Negotiating the Sacred II Elizabeth Burns Coleman, Maria Suzette Fernandes-Dias, 2008-12-01 Blasphemy and other forms of blatant disrespect to religious beliefs have the capacity to create significant civil and even international unrest Consequently the sacrosanctity of religious dogmas and beliefs stringent laws of repression and codes of moral and ethical propriety have compelled artists to live and create with occupational hazards like uncertain audience response self censorship and accusations of deliberate misinterpretation of cultural production looming over their heads Yet in recent years issues surrounding the rights of minority cultures to recognition and respect have raised new questions about the contemporariness of the construct of blasphemy and sacrilege Controversies over the aesthetic representation of the sacred the exhibition of the sacred as art and the public display of sacrilegious or blasphemous works have given rise to heated debates and have invited us to reflect on binaries like artistic and religious sensibilities tolerance and philistinism the sacred and the profane deification and vilification Endeavouring to move beyond simplistic points about the rights to freedom of expression and sacrosanctity this collection explores how differences between conceptions of the sacred can be negotiated It recognises that blasphemy may be justified as a form of political criticism as well as a sincere expression of spirituality But it also recognises that within a pluralistic society blasphemy in the arts can do an enormous amount of harm as it may also impair relations within and between societies This collection evolved out a two day conference called Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in the Arts held at the Centre for Cross Cultural Research at The Australian National University in November 2005 This is the second volume in a series of five conferences and edited collections on the theme Negotiating the Sacred The first conference Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in a Multicultural Society was held at The Australian National University's Centre for Cross Cultural Research in 2004 and published as an edited collection by ANU E Press in 2006 Other conferences in the series have included Religion Medicine and the Body ANU 2006 Tolerance Education and the Curriculum ANU 2007 and Governing the Family Monash University 2008 Together the series represents a major contribution to ongoing debates on the political demands arising from religious pluralism in multicultural societies The Publishers Weekly, 1901
