HOMEMADE PIZZA Carol DiAx, 2022-06-08 What is a Pizza Pizza is a flat open faced pie of Italian origin consisting of a bread like crust topped with seasoned tomato sauce and cheese often garnished with savoury meats and vegetables Traditionally pizza has been classified by thickness shape and assembly platform

Categorizing Pizzas

A Crust Thickness Pizza comes in thin medium and thick crust versions The amount of dough is the main factor affecting crust thickness However the amount of rise also plays a part Dough that is either under risen or over risen or else is flattened before baking tends to produce a thinner crust than one that is allowed to rise or proof to an optimum level after rolling and before baking

B Shape Pizzas are also classified by shape namely round and rectangular Pizza that is made in a rectangular sheet pan is sometimes called Italian bakery pizza the place where it originated However round is the most common shape in pizzerias probably because it is the easiest to make There are also specialty shapes such as heart shaped pizza which is a perennial Valentine's Day favorite

C Assembly Pizzas are also classified according to the platform on which they are assembled Basically there are three pan screen and peel or paddle known as pan pizza screen pizza and hearth baked pizza respectively Pan pizza is also called deep dish pizza and skillet pizza Thicker crust pizzas tend to be made in a pan while thinner ones are often assembled on a screen or peel When made on a peel a pizza is baked directly on the hearth or oven deck A variation on hearth baked pizza involves making and baking the pizza on non burning silicon treated paper
