My Brother's Keeper Jonathan Burnside, Joanna Adler, Nancy Loucks, Gerry Rose, 2013-06-17 This book is the first major study of the global phenomenon of faith based prison units Exploring the roots of faith based units in South America it explains why the Prison Service of England and Wales set up the first Christian based unit in the western world in 1997 and why there was subsequently a rapid expansion of faith units across the Western world The book presents a vision of justice that is not just concerned with building more prisons but with rebuilding more prisoners

The Cursillo Movement in America Kristy Nabhan-Warren, 2013 The internationally growing Cursillo movement or short course in Christianity founded in 1944 by Spanish Catholic lay practitioners has become popular among American Catholics and Protestants alike This lay led weekend experience helps participants recommit to and live their faith Emphasizing how American Christians have privileged the individual religious experience and downplayed denominational and theological differences in favor of a common identity as renewed people of faith Kristy Nabhan Warren focuses on cursillistas those who have completed a Cursillo weekend to show how their experiences are a touchstone for understanding these trends in post 1960s American Christianity Drawing on extensive ethnographic fieldwork as well as historical research Nabhan Warren shows the importance of Latino Catholics in the spread of the Cursillo movement Cursillistas stories she argues guide us toward a new understanding of contemporary Christian identities inside and outside U S borders and of the importance of globalizing American religious boundaries

Love in a Cauldron of Misery Kirk Blackard, 2012-09-27 Christians are called to minister to people in prison But most know next to nothing about prisons the needs of the people in them or the biblical basis for addressing those needs Love in a Cauldron of Misery fills that void This book provides a brief historical perspective that orients the reader and a discussion mainly in the words of people with real experience of what prisons and prisoners are really like and why the need for ministry is so great It then explores the biblical charge for Christians to meet these needs and discusses ways in which they can do so Love in a Cauldron of Misery is an invaluable resource for any pastor teacher or lay person who is participating in considering or just wants to know more about prison ministry

Spiritual Entrepreneurs Brad Stoddard, 2021-02-17 The overall rate of incarceration in the United States has been on the rise since 1970s skyrocketing during Ronald Reagan s presidency and recently reaching unprecedented highs Looking for innovative solutions to the crises produced by gigantic prison populations Florida s Department of Corrections claims to have found a partial remedy in the form of faith and character based correctional institutions FCBI's While claiming to be open to all religious traditions FCBI's are almost always run by Protestants situated within the politics of the Christian right The religious programming is typically run by the incarcerated along with volunteers from outside the prison Stoddard takes the reader deep inside FCBI's analyzing the subtle meanings and difficult choices with which the incarcerated prison administrators staff and chaplains grapple every day Drawing on extensive ethnographic research and historical analysis Brad Stoddard argues that FCBI's build on and demonstrate the compatibility of conservative Christian politics and neoliberal economics. Even without authoritative data on whether FCBI's are assisting rehabilitation and reducing recidivism rates, similar programs are appearing across the nation. Only Iowa has declared them illegal under non-establishment of religion statutes. Exposing the intricate connections among incarceration, neoliberal economics, and religious freedom, Stoddard makes a timely contribution to debates about religion's role in American society.
