Grading for Equity Joe Feldman,2018-09-25 Joe Feldman shows us how we can use grading to help students become the leaders of their own learning and lift the veil on how to succeed This must have book will help teachers learn to implement improved equity focused grading for impact Zaretta Hammond Author of Culturally Responsive Teaching The Brain Crack open the grading conversation Here at last and none too soon is a resource that delivers the research base tools and courage to tackle one of the most challenging and emotionally charged conversations in today's schools: our inconsistent grading practices and the ways they can inadvertently perpetuate the achievement and opportunity gaps among our students. With Grading for Equity, Joe Feldman cuts to the core of the conversation, revealing how grading practices that are accurate, bias-resistant, and motivational will improve learning, minimize grade inflation, reduce failure rates, and become a lever for creating stronger teacher-student relationships and more caring classrooms. Essential reading for schoolwide and individual book study or for student advocates, Grading for Equity provides a critical historical backdrop describing how our inherited system of grading was originally set up as a sorting mechanism to provide or deny opportunity, control students, and endorse a fixed mindset about students' academic potential. Practices that are still in place a century later. A summary of the research on motivation and equitable teaching and learning, establishing a rock-solid foundation and a true north orientation toward equitable grading practices. Specific grading practices that are more equitable, along with teacher examples, strategies to solve common hiccups and concerns, and evidence of effectiveness. Reflection tools for facilitating individual or group engagement and understanding. As Joe writes, "Grading practices are a mirror not just for students but for us as their teachers. Each one of us should start by asking, 'What do my grading practices say about who I am and what I believe?' Then let's make the choice to do things differently." With Grading for Equity as a dog-eared reference.

Educational organizations like The UNESCO and The World Bank are already calling for research and development-oriented projects and creation/mobilization of technological initiatives on how to re-imagine education and operationalize the use of digital technologies for its purpose: the Digitized Education. Those goals mean or include methodological approaches and wide adoption of the AI methods in fostering education in the classroom or learning environments. Also noteworthy is the fact that digitized education is now an inevitable and integral element to achieving the global sustainable development goals (SDGs), particularly the SDG4 that promotes quality of education.
